

We Are Dancing in the Forest

Source:
European children's game and chant
Collection of Betsy Moll

Game Directions

One child is chosen to be the wolf and hides away from the circle. The class sings and steps around in a circle, holding hands. At the end of the song, all chant, "Wolf, are you there?" Wolf chants, "I am putting on my coat." Children sing song again... "I am putting on my boots." Last time, the wolf chants, "I am here!" The children run (or pretend they are trees in the forest). The wolf catches one child, who becomes the next wolf.