

Doggie, Doggie

Source:

Katalin Forrai

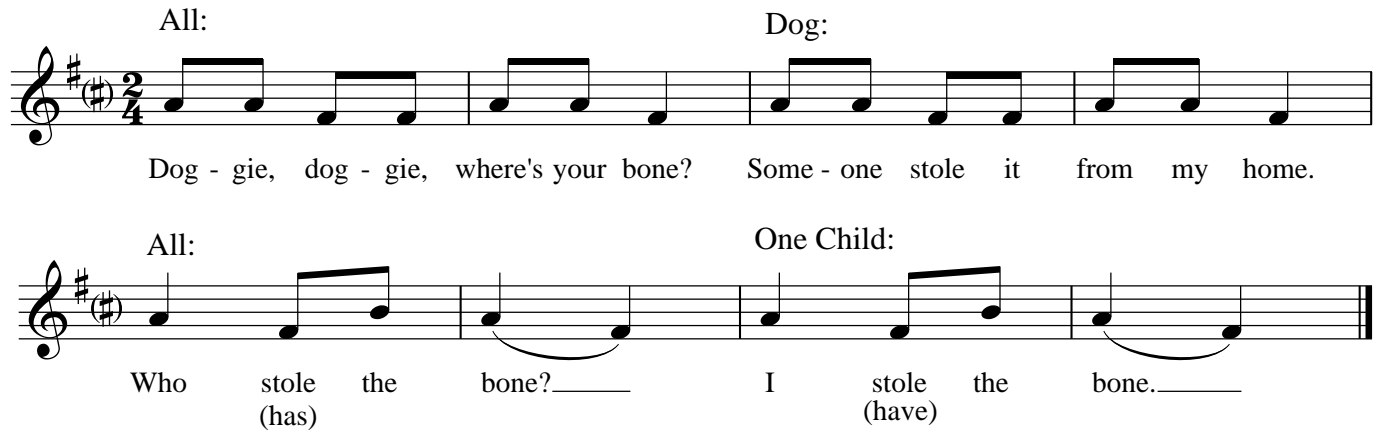

Music in Preschool

Translated and adapted by Jean Sinor

Budapest: Franklin Printing House, 1988

All: Doggie, doggie, where's your bone? Dog: Some - one stole it from my home.

All: Who stole the bone? (has) One Child: I stole the bone. (have)

Game Directions

Children sit in a circle. One child in the middle is the "doggie" and hides his eyes. Another is given the "bone" (beanbag, plastic bone, etc.). All sing first line; "doggie" sings the second line; all sing third; child with the "bone" sings the last line. The "doggie" must guess who it was who sang.